It seems we have some new Clans people interested in representing their Clans for the first time ever. I've received a lot of inquiries as to what it takes to represent a clan at the Games so I'm including the guidelines for Clan Row.

You must be recognized by your Clan as Members and authorized to represent your clan and sign members.

You must have proper Banners and Clan Badges on display and Historic Clan information to distribute.

Friday night's Clan Calling, one representative from your Clan in Tartan Kilt, Trews or Ladies Tartan Dress only will be allowed to Call for your Clan. Please limit introductions to a minute or less.

The following is just common courtesy and rules of the site. No fires, firearms (unless historical replica's unable to fire and or unloaded), no generators, no loud music, videos or any other activity that may disrupt neighbors and visitors.

No Selling of Merchandise or Product of any type in Clan Row.

A Reminder, there is no Potable water on site, No electrical hookups and no pets, (except service animals accompanied with proper certification) allowed on site. Leaving Pets in Vehicles is not advised and proper steps will be taken if this occurs. This is a field so proper foot apparel and Insect repellant is strongly advised. We can't stress enough to bring drinking water Extra water is a good idea, be prepared and be safe.
